THE OPEN DOOR

Life is just one door after another,
and the thing about doors
is that they don't compromise.
They are either open or shut.
We all know the slamming door.
Sometimes it shuts so fast
that it almost cuts us in two,
and we are left in a state of grief.
At other times a door closes slowly,
squeezing us out of breath
until we have to step aside
and let ourselves be locked out.
A certain fact about doors
is that when one shuts on us
another one always opens,
but that's not easy to see.
Often, I'm so busy knocking
on the door that's solidly shut,
that I'm not aware of the other door
wide open at my back.

Greetings

This morning when I looked out of my kitchen window the garden looked cold. Being late June and very near the shortest day/longest night what else would you expect you might well ask. The garden looked drab, the lawn dewy and it all looked as though it had stopped. Yet later in the morning when I stepped out the front door there were green shoots from the daffodils I had planted, beginning to appear above the soil.

Seeing them, I was reminded of a request for a song from a resident at one of the rest homes where I hold monthly communion services. The request had surprised me as I hadn't expected someone to ask for the Easter hymn, "Now the green blade rises." That hymn is the most popular of eight hymns written by John Crum (1875-1958) who was an English Anglican priest.

It is an Easter hymn but picks up the parables that we read earlier in the month about the farmer sowing seed. The parable describes how a farmer shows seed but does not understand the process through which that seed becomes grain. The fact that the process occurs is Jesus says through the parable, evidence of faith - that is being sure of things hoped for and certain of what we do not see.

So, we are in midwinter. When we look out the window and see the world as dark, wet and cold we long for the warmth and sunlight and growth of spring and summer. Until we see the green blades of daffodil leaves our hope is have been the hope of faith, faith that creation is in God's hands just as it was on that first Easter when Jesus though dead and buried, rose again. John Crum captures that idea in the last verse of his hymn:

When our hearts are wintry, grieving, or in pain,
 Jesus' touch can call us back to life again,
 Fields of our hearts that dead and bare have been:
 Love is come again like wheat that springs up green.

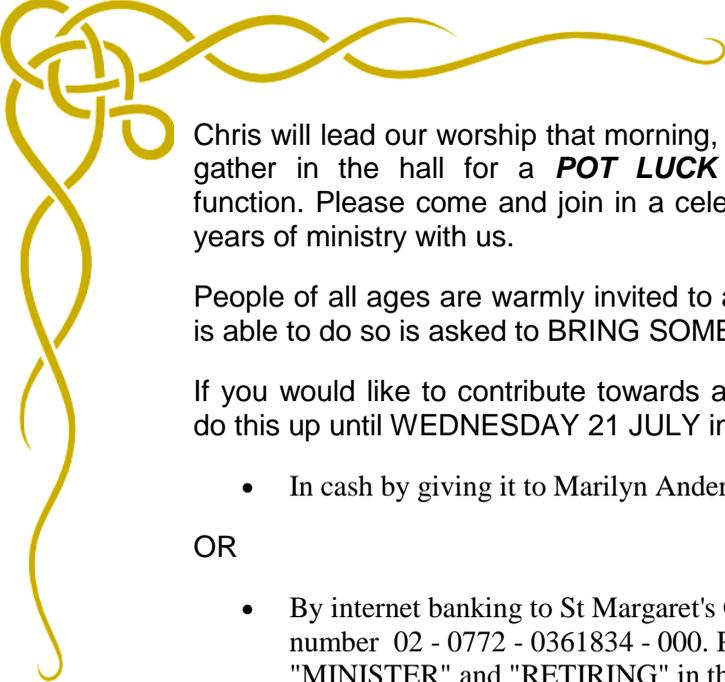

May the green blade of Christ's love touch your lives in these cold and uncertain days and restore you.

Blessings

An anthropologist showed a game to the children of an African tribe ...

He placed a basket of delicious fruits near a tree trunk and told them: The first child to reach the tree will get the basket. When he gave them the start signal, he was surprised that they were walking together, holding hands until they reached the tree and shared the fruit!

When he asked them why you did that when every one of you could get the basket only for him!

They answered with astonishment: Ubuntu.

"That is, how can one of us be happy while the rest are miserable?"

Ubuntu in their civilization means: (I am because we are).

That tribe knows the secret of happiness that has been lost in all societies that transcend them and which consider themselves civilized societies ..... !!

PLAY GROUP

Playgroup going well. Come join us with songs and music. Everyone welcome.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

We would love all our Sunday School children to be able to attend on Sunday 25 July which is the last Sunday of the school holidays. We will be holding Sunday School and then attend the lunch for Chris afterwards. There will be lots of yummy food for the children as well!

GIRLS' BRIGADE

It is hard to believe we are close to the end of Term 2 already!

Our Juniors and Seniors have joined together for a badge. They have been making items to sell to fundraise for World Vision. So far they have layered ingredients in a jar for Chocolate Chip Cookies and made two spice mixes - Burrito and BBQ. We are hoping to have our "Market" before the end of term. Our Pioneers have been doing felting and have been making some delicious food.

With Chris' last service being 25 July, we are inviting all our families to attend and join in.

Our last night for Term 2 will be Tuesday 6 July.
